Give Us the News

The Mountain Advocate makes every effort to get the news of the county. It will appreciate items written or telephoned in by its friends in any section of the county. People die, and marry and no mention is made of them because the editor did not hear of the occurrences. We aim to publish the news. All communications must reach this office Wednesday or they can't get in the current issue.

BIRTHS

"They are idols of hearts and of households;
They are angels of God in disguise."

No home is complete without the presence of a child. No heart is lonely that is full of father and mother love. To watch the growth of a child, and see it develop, day by day, is the greatest pleasure accorded to mortals. This pleasure has just fallen to the lot of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Hawn who are rejoicing at the arrival, on February 22nd, of a bright little Martha Washington in their home. Little Miss Ruth Evangeline Hawn will be pleased to have you put her name on your "calling list" if you have not already done so.

BORN—To the wife of J. S. Miles a girl babe, Mother and babe doing well.

Old hypocrites usually pray like they thought God was plum deaf.

Blessed dawn, when we shall behold a new Declaration of Independence to fling into the face of men born for free.

Hale-Sasser

The marriage of Miss Nannie May Hale to Mr. J. P. Sasser was the event of the day on Feb. 22, at Blackwater, Ky.

The day was lovely indeed, the sun shone bright all day, there was not a cloud to be seen to hide the beautiful blue heavens and the birds sang sweetly, while the little brook was gayly babbling its tune and everything seemed happy and gay.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns. The bride's trousseau was silk over satin with white satin slippers to match, the veil extended to the hem of her satin skirt. They entered the room the bride leaning on the arm of the groom, he touring above her looking so stately, so grand, as the noble man he is, and she looked every inch a bride from the lips of her satin slippers to the wreath of orange blossoms.

As he placed the ring on her finger he was heard to whisper "my wife". The bride's maids were Misses Violet Walden, Lucy Sasses, Effie Beets and Myrtle Taylor. Mr. Chester Beets was best man. They will spend their honeymoon in Galverton, Tex., after which they will go to Fort Crook, Neb., where they will make their home. The happy couple have the best wishes of this community for a long and happy married life.

Miss Myrtle Taylor, Sr.

If a majority of the society folks could be bought for just what they are actually worth, any old tramp in the wide world could own one, or a half dozen.

I have a great deal more respect for a man who says "dam it" and means it, than the old hypocrite who says his prayers and doesn't mean it.

G. B. LIKENS

In last week's issue we published the announcement of G. B. Likens, a candidate for the office of Secretary of State, and we predict that he will be in the race to win, the nomination.

We publish below what his home paper says of him, and ask the Democrats of the mountains to consider Mr. Likens, he is a man that does things.

When Gabe Likens, of Hartford announced for the office of Secretary of State at the coming primary, it is safe to predict that he will be heard from and render a fine account of himself at the finish. His admirers, who are numerous, have been urging him to face the issue, and Likens has consented. Gabe Likens, as he is affectionately called by his host of friends, is one of the most able and lovable men in the State. He was born in the town of Hartford, Ky., in the year 1867, and has rendered a good account of himself ever since. For a number of years he served as a teacher and principal of the High School at Carrollton, but in 1892 he entered the field of politics, was elected Circuit Court Clerk, and in 1909 was admitted to the practice of law, and has a brilliant record in legal circles. Mr. Likens has also been president of the citizen bank of Hartford for the past ten years and has proved a most popular and able official.

Naturally his fellow citizens are proud of him, and predict that a young man who has achieved so much can be depended upon to distinguish himself in the position to which he now aspires. He is a Democrat from the word go, able, honest, affable, a man who has always stood for the rights of the laboring people and recognized the sacredness and dignity of labor. He is a fine mixer, conscientious in the discharge of his duty, and always aiming to excel and merit the confidence of the voters who have placed him in office. Gabe Likens has the good wishes of all who know him in his coming race. His friends among the fraternal orders are particularly enthusiastic in his behalf. Mr. Likens organized a Lodge of Odd Fellows in Hartford in 1909 and was nominated at its last session for Grand Warden.

He is also chairman of the Committee on By-Laws. In fact though a young man he has distinguished himself as few have done, and his nomination at the forthcoming primary for the office of Secretary of State will be an immensely popular one with the people of his State which he has served so faithfully and so well.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the M. E. Church, will meet with Mrs. M. Cannon in her home on Depot street next Friday afternoon at the usual hour.

Will Locate in Eminence

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Davis left last week for Eminence, where they will make their future home.

We regret to lose this estimable couple from our city, and Eminence is to be congratulated upon securing such a couple as Mr. and Mrs. Davis as their future citizens.

The Advocate joins their many friends in extending best wishes for their success.

How many people are there who would ever think of heaven if it were not for the thoughts of hell?

GOOD ROADS

Whatever is done on the question of good roads will be done tomorrow, whether we carry it or not we do not know, but we do know that the majority of the voters is for the advancement of good roads, good schools, good Churches and good citizenship.

It may well be said that today on the eve of the election, that some of the good roads advocates have made a noble fight for it, traveling many miles, delivering many speeches for it. To these men we take off our hats win or lose, and we believe that if we do win that the roads will be going within the next sixty days, we hope that the Bond Issue will be carried by such a majority as did Bell County carry in its County, and if the people understand it we believe that we will.

Several Clay County men were in Barbourville, and they say that the day that Knox County starts her road to the Clay County line, that on that day she will start from Manchester to meet us, and we fondly hope that this happy meeting will start, and terminate before the frost begins to fly in November, and that we will be in touch with all the other Counties by that time.

Wake Up, Young Man

Say, young man, there is one thing you cannot do. You cannot make a success of life unless you have tried and failed. You can't loaf around street corners and saloons, smoke cigars, tell foul stories, drink whiskey and sponge on someone else, without making a failure in life. You must learn a trade or get into some honest business. If you don't you will be a chronic loafer, despised by all, producing nothing, simply making yourself a burden on your parents or on the State. There is no place in the world for loafers.

The ripe fruit is off at the top of the tree. You must climb to get it.

If you wait for it to fall at your feet you will never get it. smarter men will jump up and get it.

Move. Do something; no matter how small. It will be a starter.

Help yourself and others will help you. There is no royal road to success. Toil, grit and endurance; these are requisites.

Wake up and see what you can do. —Colliersville News.

How We Get the News

Day before yesterday a perfectly nice lady called us up and with tears in her voice reproved us for not mentioning the fact that she had a friend visiting her last week. We told her that she had not let us know anything about it and that therefore, we did not know that she had a visitor.

Then she said, "Well you should have known. I thought you were running a newspaper." Wouldn't that rattle your slate? Some people think that an editor ought to be a cross of Argus and Anna Eva Fay. They seem to think that our five senses are augmented by a sixth that lets us know everything that happens, even if we see, hear, feel, taste or smell it not. Dear lady reader, editors are only human. If you have a friend visiting you, if you are going away, or have returned from a visit out of town, if Johnnie falls and breaks his arm, if your husband chops his toe instead of a stick of wood, if anything happens that makes you glad, sad, happy, or mad, call us up. Tell us about it. That's the way to get it in the paper.

Genuine Merit Required to Win the People's Confidence

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfil the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

That Tired Feeling

Do You Continually Feel Sluggish, Disinterested?

It is generally agreed by experts in this country and Europe that calomel has a very violent effect on the system. This accounts for the familiar disagreeable feeling accompanying a dose, and the weakened condition following it.

Liv-Ver-Lax is a harmless vegetable compound, that is a mild, but effective substitute for calomel. It has all the effectiveness, but not the effect of calomel. Its splendid value has brought it into such wide use that in some States it has almost entirely replaced calomel.

Just try Liv-Ver-Lax once, and you'll never use calomel again. Insist on the genuine, bearing the likeness and signature of L. K. Grigsby, which is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. For sale by any druggist—Advt.

COOPER TALKED TO MANY FARMERS

Great European War Will Not Affect Distribution of Tanlac

Lexington, Ky., March 4th.—Thousands of farmers from Fayette and adjoining counties heard L. T. Cooper, the great philanthropist, in Lexington recently. Cooper gave one of his famous lectures on health and hygiene, in connection with an interesting demonstration on the merits of Tanlac, the remarkable medicine he is introducing to the American people.

Several score of these same farmers took part in the agricultural exposition conducted by Cooper at his own personal expense in Lexington. Many of the displays excelled the exhibits seen at the county fairs, and have attracted widespread attention throughout Kentucky.

In speaking of Tanlac and the remarkable cures his great medicine is fulfilling, Cooper said to the farmers:

"Tanlac, gentlemen, is not a common patent medicine. Tanlac is a proprietary medicine—the kink of medicine recently spoken of by Hon. Oscar Underwood, the Democratic leader of the House of Representatives in our national Congress at Washington, D. C. You all know that Mr. Underwood was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, and that he is a man of great ability and integrity. He is a native Kentuckian, too.

"Realizing what a real hardship it would bring to the thousands of American people who daily use Tanlac and similar proprietary medicines, should these preparations be included among the popular commodities upon which a special war revenue tax was placed, Congressman Underwood, with characteristic safeguard of the people's rights, placed on record as unalterably opposed to anything that would increase the price of proprietary medicines, or which would tend to deprive the working man of his best friend.

"The result was that Tanlac and similar proprietary medicine were stricken completely off the war revenue bill. Thus it is, gentlemen, that the thousands of sufferers in this country are enabled to obtain Tanlac now at a price within reach of the most modest means."

Here, Cooper, holding the attention of the great assemblage, explained the causes and enumerated the symptoms of stomach, liver and kidney troubles.

"Most of the so-called stomach, liver and kidney troubles," said the noted student, "are due almost entirely to catarrhal inflammation of those organs. The constant coughing up mucus, dull, throbbing headaches, pains in the pit of the stomach, side and kidney region, lost appetite, nervousness, lost ambition, depression of spirits, and susceptibility to coughs and colds, are common symptoms of this miserable condition from which so many suffer."

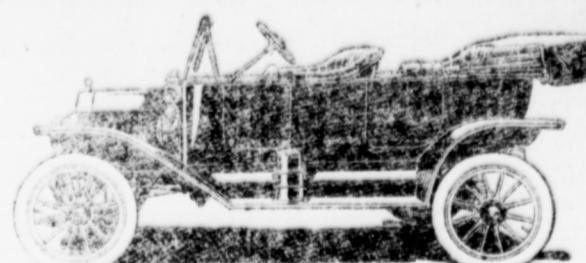

Cooper then produced hundreds of testimonials from Lexington people as convincing evidence of the genuine merits of Tanlac.
